Will you have enough money for retirement?

Can you handle life’s unexpected expenses so you can live comfortably and enjoy retirement?

What if you get sick? What if you live a lot longer in retirement than originally planned?

Nearly 60% of Americans are very or moderately worried about having enough money for retirement.1

Many Americans will be spending 20+ years in retirement.2

The amount of retirement savings a typical American worker has.3

47% of older adults have at least one chronic disease; 70% have at least two.4

One out of every four 65-year-olds will live past the age of 90; one out of every ten will live past 95.5

Nearly 50% of people retired earlier than expected due to health problems or disability, company closure or downsizing, or having to care for a family member.6

$363,946 projected out-of-pocket healthcare costs (excluding long-term care costs) for an average, healthy 65-year-old couple retiring in 2018.7

American General, a member company of AIG, can help you Retire STRONGER. RetireStronger.com

1 “Paying for Medical Crises, Retirement Lead Financial Fears;” Gallup; May 3, 2018
2 U.S. Census Bureau 2017 Population Estimates Data, released June 2018; and Social Security Administration Period Life Expectancy Data, 2018
3 Retirement in America: Out of Reach For Working Americans?; National Institute on Retirement Security; September, 2018
4 The Graying of American Debt; Federal Reserve Bank of New York; February 12, 2016
5 “Healthy Aging Facts;” National Council on Aging; 2018
6 Social Security Administration Data; accessed November 29, 2018
7 2017 Retirement Confidence Survey; AARP; December 2017
8 2018 Retirement Healthcare Costs Data Report; HealthView Services; 2018